

LEVERTON & Co

WOMEN'S OUTERGARMENTS EXCLUSIVELY

1115 G St., Next to Corner of 12th.

Informal "Showing" of Fall Fashions in Women's Suits, Skirts, Coats, Waists, etc., TOMORROW, TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

THE store has been entirely redecorated—the new stocks are complete, and we ask your inspection, with a confidence that our efforts will meet your unqualified approval.

As in former seasons, our styles are exclusive, and yet exclusiveness does not mean exorbitant or prohibitive prices. This business was not created to build a barrier around any one class of trade, but by the broadness of its stocks—as well as the variety—it has been enabled to bring all classes within its fold.

Knowing what to choose and how to select; knowing where to go for outergarments—and how to buy them—that's the secret that gives you the broadest choice—from the smallest to the highest price.

Women's Suits in every new fabric shown in New York, and over 500 different styles.

Women's Waists of silk, net, lingerie, linen, etc.

Women's Skirts of voile, silks, chiffon panamas and mannish materials.

Women's Coats for evening and street wear.

Street and Evening Dresses.

Newest stripes and plaids in Rubberized Silk Raincoats.

Special attention is directed to the Women's Suits at $25 and $35, which are not equaled elsewhere in point of variety or distinctiveness. The Suits start at $15 and run up to $100. Whatever you pay, you may count on saving from $5 to $20.

The ever-watchful eye of our New York connections on the market keeps us in close touch with the new ideas as quickly as they are produced.

AMONG THE CLUBS

The first meeting of the season of the Excelsior Literary Club was held Tuesday with Mrs. J. Finney Engle, 706 North Carolina avenue southeast. "Summer Outings" was the subject for first meeting, and the members traveled from Jamestown to Canada and from New England to Kansas. Many pleasant incidents were given. The officers for the current year were installed as follows: President, Mrs. J. Finney Engle; first vice president, Mrs. D. L. Norris; second vice president, Mrs. Jennie Parker; third vice president, Mrs. Henry Baker; recording secretary, Miss McCreary; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ida Knapp; treasurer, Mrs. C. S. N. Seeley. The study for this year is "Egypt." The hostess served refreshments.

The regular Thursday evening meetings of Blavatsky Branch Theosophical Society have been resumed at No. 1013 L street northwest. The public is cordially invited. General discussion permitted. Papers of interest are always read, followed by an exchange of views, which are always of interest. The subjects range from philosophical to theosophical. The meetings are well attended, and the branch has mapped out good work for the coming summer. The officers of the branch are: President,

H. W. Crogin; secretary, Miss M. P. Tre-witt; treasurer, H. H. Bergmann; librarian, Mrs. Thompson.

The Laurel Pleasure Club held its semi-monthly social meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fairall, in 12th street southeast, Tuesday evening. The evening was spent playing progressive pitch, first prizes being won by Mrs. Leman and Mr. Alt-mann; booty prizes by Mrs. Bates and Mr. Bates. Refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fairall were proposed for membership by Mr. Bates and were unanimously elected. Among those present besides the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Solbach, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bates, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Leman and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Altman.

The Freon Club gave a straw ride on Thursday evening. Its social night, and ten couples with chaperons started at 8 o'clock from the home of Freon Harry L. Andresen, 1034 L street northwest, amid the ringing cheers from a crowd who had gathered around the large wagon, the strawride party singing and blowing horns and ringing bells. The wagon took its way toward the northeast on H street, and along the Bladensburg road to Hyattsville, where the party stopped at the home of Miss E. Burgess, who had invited the membership of the Freon Club to stop there for enjoyment and rest. The members arrived about 8:30, singing the air with every possible noise. The host immediately set to work entertaining the guests, dancing being one of the chief enjoyments. Several solos were sung by H. J. Jeffries and a number of fine recitations by J. Healy. About midnight the host invited the club members and their lady friends to the spacious dining room, where a luxurious repast was served. The refreshments were heartily enjoyed and after several songs were sung by the entire party all returned to the beautifully decorated parlors to continue the pleasure of the evening. Amid unanimous cheers and thanks to the host for the splendid time given the Freon Club left, sending the air with their rubber-dub. Those who composed the party were Misses Irene Connor, L. Oscar, L. Sudsberger, J. Talbot, Ellen Andresen, Elsie Moore, Lillian Gayle, Esther Linkins, Mary Hardy, E. Burgess, and Messrs. Freeman H. Healey, H. J. Jeffries, H. J. Jeffries, Dr. W. C. Killinger and J. Bond; W. Rothstein, Freeman J. E. Curtis, George Grubbs, Nathan R. Walle, Harry L. Andresen, Will H. Herbert and Mascot Will Andresen. Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, Eugene Burgess and Miss Elizabeth Burgess were the hosts.

The Gaelic Society of Washington will inaugurate the season of 1907-08 with an open meeting at Carroll Institute Hall Wednesday evening, October 8. The lecture of the evening will be by the Rev. Dr. T. J. Sheehan of the Catholic University, on the subject of "The World's Debt to the Celt," with special reference to the work of the Irish teachers of the middle ages. The lecture, which will be given in the lecture hall at the university, is known as a profound scholar and graceful writer, and is peculiarly qualified to handle this subject. He is an intimate knowledge of early European conditions. There will also be a musical program, including vocal and instrumental renditions of characteristic old Gaelic and by trained performers, and a short Gaelic address by one of our best speakers of the language. Admission will be free and the public are assured of a pleasurable and profitable evening.

Boy Bridegroom in Jail.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., October 5.—Luke McKittick, Jr., aged fifteen, a bridegroom of two days, was put in jail here yesterday afternoon on a charge of incorrigibility preferred by his father, a wealthy farmer. Young Luke fell in love with Miss Mary Sant, aged twenty, daughter of a neighbor. His father forbade him to speak to Miss Sant again, but Wednesday the couple disappeared, went to Cumberland and were married. They returned home yesterday morning, expecting forgiveness. Instead they were met at the station by a constable, who arrested the bridegroom. The bride is trying to obtain bail for him.

Accused of Check Fraud.

STAMFORD, Conn., October 5.—A man who says he is John Eldridge, a graduate of Cambridge University, England, and until recently a teacher of mathematics at Lackawanna School, Scranton, Pa., is under arrest here, charged with passing worthless checks. He is held for the Trenton, N. J., police.

Eldridge's arrest was due to a complaint made by his brother-in-law, Stanley Savage, in business at 140 West 34th street, New York. Savage said that Eldridge, who recently married his sister, a Newark girl, was exerting a hypnotic influence over her, and he feared she would become an accomplice in the swindling game.

Eldridge, who is about thirty years old, has been here about three weeks. He was working in a factory as John Ladebrook when arrested. He admitted having cashed worthless checks in Trenton, Lake Hopatcong and New York.

SOCIETY

young couple are in the northern part of the United States passing their honeymoon and will reach Washington, their future home, toward the end of this week.

Mrs. Elias Raff has returned from a trip south and has joined Mrs. Raff in Baltimore, where they will reside.

Mrs. Harriet K. MacArthur gave a reception lately in Portland, Ore., in honor of Miss Greely, daughter of Gen. Greely, who is now at Vancouver barracks.

The French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand, who arrived yesterday from their vacation spent in France, will shortly take possession of the newly leased French embassy, the spacious mansion built by Mrs. John B. Henderson near her own home and the residence of Secretary Straus, and now to be occupied for the first time.

Capt. and Mrs. Richardson Clover and their young daughters have returned to Washington after spending some time in Europe. Mrs. Clover went abroad in the late spring and made a lengthy stay in London, where she has so many friends, gained during her residence there while Capt. Clover was attached to the American embassy and his home the scene of frequent and delightful hospitality. Capt. Clover joined his family during the late summer and traveled considerably with them.

The Swedish minister, Mr. de Lagercrantz, and wife will spend several weeks here before going abroad again. They have been north all the past summer, and have been the recipients of much public and private hospitality.

The Russian ambassador and Baroness Rosen are expected back from the north early this week.

Mrs. Horatio N. Slater has closed her cottage at Bar Harbor and has returned to her home in Readville. Mrs. Slater's cottage is one of the loveliest at Bar Harbor, and it has been the scene of many entertainments during the summer, the last one being a reception in honor of Bishop Doane of Albany. Later Mrs. Slater expects to come to Washington, as is her annual custom.

Mrs. Electa E. Smith of this city, who is making her annual visit to her old home in Sterling, Ill., has, as usual, been the recipient of many private and public hospitalities. The Sterling Standard of a recent date said:

Nearly all of the members of Leo H. Bushnell Camp, U. S. W. V., who are in the city gathered at the city hall Monday evening and went to the home of Mrs. Electa E. Smith on West 3d street. They were accompanied by the Sixth Regiment Band, and all united in a very heartily welcoming Mrs. Smith home.

She was pleasantly surprised by the demonstration, which showed the genuine friendship of the young men for their guardian angel of 1888 during their stay at Camp Alger, and she delightfully entertained the boys, passing around the cigars and visiting happily with them. After music by the band there were happy hours, during which old times were talked over, and the men were much pleased as their friend at meeting again, and all wished her continued success and happiness in her work in Washington.

One of her closest friends in her home town, Mrs. S. R. Davis, who has passed her ninety-second birthday, gave a dinner recently when Mrs. Smith, who was appointed the postmistress of Sterling by Gen. Grant, and her predecessor in office, Mrs. Henry, who was postmistress of the same town and appointed by Lincoln, were the guests of honor. The occasion was a very happy one.

Mrs. B. C. Jilison of 315 South Highland avenue, East End, Pittsburg, Pa., widow of Dr. Benjamin Cutter Jilison, for many years principal of the Pittsburg Central High School and professor of chemistry in the Western University of Pennsylvania, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Sarah Rowland Jilison, to Col. E. B. Townsend of this city, the wedding to take place at high noon Tuesday October 15, at the home of the bride's mother, Rev. John R. Wightman of Calvary Episcopal Church officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Townsend will spend a few days at White Sulphur Springs, later going to Providence, Forge, Va., where the old manor house on the Townsend estate will be thrown open to friends from Washington, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Richmond and Norfolk, who have been invited to participate in the fall shooting. Col. Townsend has been connected with the business life of the National capital for many years, having had intimate relations with Gov. Shepherd's administration during the years 1870-1880.

The first of the October brides at Takoma Park will be Miss Clara Louise Colcord, whose marriage to Mr. Ray A. Leslie of the same place will take place tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock at the residence of the bride, 246 Chestnut avenue. The ceremony will be performed by Pastor G. A. Irwin of the Seventh Day Adventist Church at Takoma Park, of which both are active members. The bride will have as her only attendant Miss Helen Miller as bridesmaid. Mr. Sanford Harlan will be best man. The ceremony will be witnessed by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties and a small company of invited guests. After the ceremony the couple will leave for the Jamestown exposition. They will return to the residence of the bride, where a reception will be held Thursday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Colcord, who, with her parents, has been a resident of Takoma Park for the past three years. She spent almost half of her early life in Australia, where her parents resided for nine years. She is quite accomplished and her charming manner has won for her a large number of friends in social circles in the park. Mr. and Mrs. Colcord are authors of note, the former being secretary of the religious liberty bureau of the general conference at Takoma Park and also an instructor in the Washington Training College at that place. On the Colcord side there are five generations living, Mrs. Colcord being a granddaughter of a grandmother. The wedding will take place on the third anniversary of the meeting of the young couple. The groom has been a resident of Takoma Park for the past three years. He is a young man of considerable executive ability and is quite popular with his business associates.

On the evening of September 25 Mrs. Harvey Wilson, who was then Miss Gertrude Roderick, was ordered a surprise linen shower at her home, 531 3d street northeast, by a few girl friends. The event was a total surprise to the bride-elect, and she was the recipient of a number of beautiful linen presents. The evening was delightfully spent with music and games, after which refreshments were served. Those present at the shower were the Misses Mamie Carroll, Fannie Fittion, Florence Forbes, Elsie and Marion Herrie, Annie Harr, Emma Hammond, Mrs. Ed Hopewell, Mrs. Ed Jones, Georgia Maynard, Virginia May and Stella Raymond, Nellie Ryan, Miss Yarnell, Mrs. J. U. Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Roderick.

Miss Roderick was married to Mr. Harvey Wilson of Philadelphia, Wednesday, October 2, at the Douglas Memorial Church. The couple are now on an automobile tour to a number of the large cities, including Philadelphia, New York city, Buffalo and Boston, after which they will return to Philadelphia, where they will make their future home. Mrs. Wilson will be greatly missed by her many Washington friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Gustav Werber have returned to the city.

Miss A. P. Moses has returned from Atlantic City.

Mrs. Frederick N. Webber, Jr., and little son Nilson have gone south to join Mr. Webber.

One of the prettiest weddings of the week was that of Miss Ella Marie Brandt and Mr. Frederick S. Schneider, which was solemnized by Rev. Paul A. Mynzel in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties Wednesday evening last at the bride's home, 927 S street northwest. The house was beautifully decorated to represent autumn, daisies, violets, gold-rod and dahlias forming the materials. The ceremony was followed by a reception, after which the bride and groom departed on a trip to Canada, Niagara Falls, Atlantic City and Philadelphia. They will be at home to their friends October 18 at 213 1/2 street northeast.

To the beautiful strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march, played by Miss Katherine Byrne, the couple entered the church, where the ceremony was performed under the fall bowers. As the service was being conducted by Dr. Mennel Miss Byrne sang "O Promise Me." The bride was
